GARMON CAR RUINED BY FIRE

A car owned by Mrs. M. M. Billette and driven by Sylvanus Pierce burned Sunday morning about one o'clock, on the Bradford road between the Swortz and Donley farms. The party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Pierce had attended the auto show at Bradford, and were returning home, when the car took fire from back firing, and soon became a wreck. The occupants narrowly escaped. Friends who were also returning from the auto show brought the members of the party home.

MISSIONARY ADDRESSES MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Mrs. H. Olson, wife of the pastor of the Swedish Mission church of this place, and former missionary to China, addressed the Women's Missionary Society of the M. E. church Tuesday evening, on her work in China. Mrs. Olson is a very interesting speaker, and her seven years in China furnished her with an intimate knowledge of her subject.

Preceding her talk Rev. Arthur Gregson led the devotionals, and following it were piano solos, by Lenora Lemmler and Catherine Workley, and a vocal solo by Mrs. C. E. Doulon, all finely executed.

The affair was well attended. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Chas. Freeman, Mrs. J. M. Wiant, Mrs. Alice Live, Mrs. John Farlen, Mrs. Fred Burlingame and Miss Carrie Day, who served refreshments following the program.

VIEWERS ACT TO-DAY.

C. M. Colegrove, T. H. Morrison and Erwin Martin met this forenoon to decide regarding repairing the Potato Creek bridge at Farmers Valley. The heavy hauling over the bridge during the road construction on the Rew-Smethport concrete road left it in bad condition.

CONOPUS CLUB.

The Smethport Conopus Club meets on Monday, March 26th, at the Grand Central Hotel. From twenty-five to thirty members have expressed their intentions of attending the Rotary dinner in the evening at 6.15 in Bradford.

POMONA GRANGE.

The McKean County Pomona Grange will meet April 4th, with Corryville Grange. A complete program of the meeting will appear in the next issue.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

The McKean County Medical Society held a dinner meeting at the Board of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Dr. W. A. Ostrander; vice president, Dr. E. M. McLean; secretary and treasurer Dr. Francis DeCarla; board of censors, Dr. Fredricks, Dr. McCoy and Dr. Evan O'Neil Kane.—The Bradford Star.

HAPPILY MARRIED.

George E. Sisson and Viola M. Laubeke, both of Buffalo, N. Y. were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage, Tuesday, March 15. The Rev. Arthur Gregson officiated.

A. B. HENRY FOR SHERIFF.

Mr. A. B. Henry (better known as "Al") was a caller at the Miner office, Monday. He confirms the statement made in our columns a few weeks ago that he is a candidate for the office of Sheriff. Mr. Henry is well known and liked throughout the country. It has been a long time since Eldred has had citizens occupying a county office.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Sunday, March 25, is Palm Sunday. Morning worship at 10:30; Church school, 11:45; Junior Epworth League, 3:00; no evening service. Preparatory membership class, Wednesday 3:45. Ladies Aid will meet on Thursday afternoon and the Priscilla Club on Friday evening.

HEMSTITCHING.

First class hemstitching 10c per yard. Mrs. F. H. Hungiville, also also leave orders with the Fry Co. or M. S. Gary.

GRANGE CHANGES MEETING NIGHTS.

At Saturday's nights meeting, Fidelity Grange, voted to change their meeting night, from the first and third Saturdays to the first and third Wednesday nights of the month.

It was also voted to instruct the trustees to make a contract with Mr. James Quirk for his hall on those nights. The next meeting will be held in Quirk's Hall, on the night of April 4th.

The third and fourth degrees were conferred upon a class of two and warm sugar was served. There was a good attendance and those present expressed themselves as having enjoyed th meeting.

A new name was voted on for membership. This makes three candidates who have applied for membership on whom the degrees have not yet been conferred.

Watch next week's issue for the Lecturer's program.

REV. ARTHUR GREGSON GUEST OF HONOR AT DINNER SESSION IN M. E. CHAPEL.

A successful and inspiration at "Get Together of the men of the First Methodist church was held last evening at the Chapel A. M. Starling Presided, and after dinner introduced the guest of honor, Rev. Arthur Gregson of Smethport, who gave a thoughtful and stirring address on "The Challenge of Christain Experience." The subject was highly appropriate to the pre-Easter now engressing the churches and the city. He stressed the positiveness of the Christain message and the ability of every man to bring Christianity down to date in the vital assurances of his own soul and the dynamic witness of his life.—The Bradford Era.

AWARDED MEDAL.

Miss Marian Wettrick, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wetterick of Coudersport, who is a pupil in the sixth grade of the Coudersport schools, has been awarded a first prize medal in the Washington Story Contest conducted by the Pittsburgh Post in which children of four states competed. This is a fine honor for Miss Wettrick and one of which both she and her parents may be justly proud.—Coudersport Enterprise.

Miss Wettrick is a niece of Mate, John and Paul Connolley of this place.

QUIRKS HALL IMPROVED.

The Protective Home Circle, Eastern Star, the Grange and other organizations will hold their first meetings in April in Quirk's Hall. Mr. Quirk is busy installing proper furniture and arranging the hall to meet the commendations of the different organizations. In the near future the hall will be carpeted and which will make a fine home for these orders.

MUIR GOSPEL CAMPAIGN.

The Gospel Campaign now being held at the Smethport Baptist church under the leadership of Rev. T. Leroy Muir of Roxbury, New York is proving successful. The attendance is increasing at every service and on Sunday night a great climax was reached when nearly one hundred thronged the aisles for a closer walk with God after a stirring sermon on the 91st Psalm.

The music is under the leadership of Rev. S. A. Renicks pastor of the church, Mrs. S. Green is presiding at the piano. The auditorium is resounding with the gospel hymn sung by the large congregations assisted by a choir of young people.

Thursday night will be Methodist night. Friday, the High School have been invited to attend in a body and the Evangelist will deliver an address entitled "Over The Top". Saturday night the Booster choir of boys and girls will give another musical program. The campaign will close on Sunday with three rousing services at 10:30, 3:00 and 7:30 p. m. On Sunday afternoon Mr. Muir will give the story of his life "From a Country Village to the Gospel Platform." His next campaign will be held in April in the First Congregational church of Roscoe, N. Y., where he will be assisted by Prof. R. E. Kauffman of Dayton, Ohio. All are invited to these services.

Executive Meeting of the McKean County Farm Bureau

The directors, at the Annual Farm Bureau Meeting held in October met at the office of the County Farm Bureau this week Wednesday for the purpose of organization. The following directors were present:

H. R. Hilton, Port Allegany, Pa.
D. L. Dennis, Eldred, Pa.
A. T. Larson, Kane, Pa.
R. A. Mosier, Corryville, Pa.

The following organization was elected:

H. R. Hilton, President.
A. T. Larson, Vice-President
C. R. Lillibridge, Secretary
R. A. Mosier, Treasurer.

The County Agent, Mr. Crossman gave a comprehensive report of the work that had been done during the past year and the work and that is contemplated for the coming summer months. The following communities have been organized to do work along community lines; Ceres, Bells Run, Wrights, West Branch, Corryville, Turtle Point, Lafayette, Westmore, Port Allegany, Kane, and Smethport. The work in agriculture in these localities may be classified under these important heads: Cow Testing Association; Co-operative Buying; Fertilizers; Balanced rations; Meadow top Dressing; Poultry Management, and Sheep raising.

Special features to be carried out during the summer months will be Orchard Culture and Potato Spraying.

The work of the Farm Bureau has grown to such an extent since it was organized in 1916, that the executive committee authorized Mr. Crossman to secure an assistant during the summer months, in order that these projects might be carried out properly.

The demand or spraying both orchards and potatoes made it impossible for Mr. Crossman to give this Branch of the Farm Bureau work together with other phases of Farm work the attention necessary during the spraying season.

The Farm Bureau planned at the executive meeting to carry out at two different places in the county, oats demonstrations to show the kind of oats that are best adopted to McKean County. Mr. A. T. Larson of Kane and Mr. R. A. Mosier of Corryville will also conduct demonstrations to prove the value of home grown dairy rations consisting of oats, barley, and Canadian field peas. If these demonstrations are successful it will show the farmer of McKean County a cheaper and better dairy ration.

Mr. Miles Horst, Eastern Editor of the National Stockman and Farmer was present at the meeting and gave a very interesting talk on Agriculture and Farm Bureau work as carried on in the eastern part of the state. Mr. Horst is an energetic young man. Upon finishing the college course he left New York with $120 in cash for a two years trip in South America. After visiting practically every country in South America he returned with the the same amount of money and with experience that was worth more than money can buy. Mr. Horst was very much impressed with the agricultural possibilities of Brazil. He stated that the Table Land of Central Brazil has a climate similar to that of Virginia and the Carolinas. He predicts that that region will, when fully developed all for the West in the production of cattle.

The next executive meeting will be held in July.

$250,000 GIVEN STATE COLLEGE BY THE GRANGE.

During this year the Granges of Pennsylvania purpose to raise $250,000 to build a dormitory for girl students on the campus of the State College.

This sum will be the largest gift every made by an organization to the college. The State Grange last fall appointed a committee to decide what building to erect on the State College campus. The reason the decision was made to build a dormitory for girls is due to the fact that the college was required to turn away two girl applicants for every one that was admitted last fall.

In spite of the old Keystone State, ranking second in wealth, she has failed to provide adequate facilities to educate her youth. In this we lag behind other states.

Our Legislature claims they lack funds to provide our State College with suitable buildings, and over a thousand youths last year were told "our state has no place for you." If he had been born in Ohio or Wisconsin he migh have attended a magnificent university provided by the state. If these thousands of youths were citizens of Utah or Arizona, their university doors would have flid them welcome.

Is this far fetched? Two years ago State College asked for $2,885,000 for building, and received $250,000. Due to this, President Thomas appealed to the citizens of Pennsylvania for $2,000,000 to erect needed buildings. Including Grange donation, over one million and a quarter dollars has been pledged.

President Thomas has expressed great appreciation for the grange gift. He said: "In these times, farmers would not give away that amount of money for something they did not believe in. That the grange is coming forward voluntarily enthusiastically to help the college prove that the institution is benefiting the people it was created to serve."

SMETHPORT A THRIFT TOWN

The Smethport Post Office hit a high mark in handling the United States Treasury Savings Certificates during 1922, according to advices received from the Savings Division Third Federal Reserve District. Of the estimated total of $160,000,000 for the country, it is credited with more than $39,048.00 maturity value, Treasury Savings Certificates placed in the hands of the people.

"This surely reflects the integrity and thrift of your people," writes Savings Director George E. Lloyd to Postmaster E. W. Workley. "Thanks to such substantial and frugal communities as Smethport this country has been able to cope with many financial difficulties and to maintain its credit at a high level. For the period from 1917 to 1922 the total United States Government expenditures reached the amount of $49,000,000,000. This is more than double the total expenditures for the entire period from 1860 to 1916; yet we have been able to meet every obligation swiftly and honestly, merely because of the character an stability of our finances, busines and citizenship.

More than half a billion dollars of 1918 War Savings Stamps have been recently retired by the United States Treasury. Of this amount, about $30,000,000 Stamps have been redeemed or exchanged in the in the third District alone, and the Smethport Post Office redeemed or exchanged Stamps amounting to $8,585.00.

OF INTEREST TO ROAD BOOSTERS.

W. W. Seltz is in receipt of a letter from Judson A. Elliot, president of the Keystone Good Road Association of Mansfield in which he says:

Dear Sir:—I congraduate your Association upon your action at the recent meeting at Smethport. A concerted move on the part of the northern tier, I believe will bring about the completion of this East and West Highway within the two years. It is the most important big road of the State, to be completed. With the strong possibilities of a revenue for the two years of $40,000,000.00 even though it cost six or seven million, the thirteen counties that are directly benefited by this road, are entitled to it. This is the position we are taking—complete the road—about forty per cent is built; about 75 miles West and 75 miles East of us to build.

Very truly Yours,
Judson A. Elliott—The Reporter—Argus.

ORCHARD PRUNING DEMONSTRATION TO BE GIVEN.

A specialist in Orchard Pruning will be in McKean County on March 27 and 28 for the purpose of showing the latest proper method of pruning orchard trees.

The demonstration will be held as follows:

At Joe Flannigan's farm at Kings Run, on Tuesday, March 27 at 10 o'clock a. m.

Fred King's, Ceres, on Tuesday, March 27 at 1:00 p. m.

H. W. Carpenter, at Myrtle, on Tuesday, March 27 at 3:00 p. m.

A. F. Reeves' Smethport, on Wednesday March 28 at 10:00 a. m.

Dan Helmer's Orchard, Port Allegany, on Wednesday, March 28 at 2:00 p. m.

It is hoped that all who are interested in pruning work of their own at home, will attend one of these demonstrations where actual pruning will be done as well as questions on the work answered by the specialist.

ELDRED BOY DISCHARGED FROM THE NAVY.

John A. Greely, whose father J. R. Greeley live in Eldred, Penn., was today "Honorably Discharged" from the U. S. Navy, with the rating of Pharm. Mate 2nd Class. He has served on the USS ARGOSTOCK., USS CHICAGO, Naval Hospital, Pearl Harbor, T. H., Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., and the U. S. Receiving Ship, at San Francisco, Calif. He has been promoted five times.

Pharmacist Mate Greeley will probably have some interesting stories to tell of his varied experiences while in the Navy, when he returns to his home.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Once more the Boy Scouts of America have started up in Smethport. Their aim is to make for the community and themselves, better citizens.

This organization is about the biggest and best known in the world. This organization is not only known for being the biggest and best, but for the education gotten form it. The organization not only teaches them the inside fract of life but to mix and mingle with the out of doors.

The Troop held their first meeting March 10, this meeting proved a great success. The boys of the old Troop No. 1 were present the names of the following are the few left from the old Troop No. 1: John A. Pogsen, first class scout and obtaining two merit badges. William Spanogle, tenderfoot, Edmnod Olgel, tenderfoot and Philip Newman, tenderfoot.

At the next meeting the Troop elected officers as follows: Paul Hallstroin Scoutmaster, John A. Pogsen, Treasurer and Senior Patrol Leader, William Spanogle Secretary.

A few tests were given and those who passed them are: Andrew Van Dyke, Tenderfoot test. Robert Speer Tenderfoot test Lawrence Hopper, Tenderfoot test.

Aim of Scout Movement

The aim of the Boy Scouts is to supplement the various existing educational agencies, and to promote the ability in boys to do things for themselves and others. It is not the aim to set up a new organization to parallel in its purpose others already established. The opportunity is to afford these organizations, however, to introduce into their programs unique features appealing to interests which are universal among boys. The method is summed up in the term Scoutcraft, and is a combination of observation, deduction, and handiness, or the ability to do things. Scoutcraft includes instruction in safety first methods First Aid, Life Saving, Tracking, Signaling, Cycling, Nature Study, Seamanship, Campcraft, Woodcraft, Chivalry, Patriotism, and other subjects. This is accomplished in games and team play, and is pleasure not work for the boy. All that is needed is the out doors, a group of boys and a competent leader.

RICH IN HISTORY IS FAMOUS GOLDEN VALE OF MUNSTER

Valley of Slieve-na-mon, Tipperary, Has Seen Stirring Events, and Its Picturesque Scenery Is Center of Most Interesting Folklore.

The valley of Slieve-na-mon, Tipperary, is so called from the mountain of that name which at times towers aloft, cold, dark and repellant, but when clothed in the soft gray mists of early morning or bathed in the glamor of an Irish sunset is truly a sight to gladden the senses. The valley embraces part of that section of Tipperary called the Golden Vale of Munster, said to be the richest farming land in all of Ireland. Away to the northeast is the famous Devil's Bit mountain, another of the Galtee range. It was on this mountain that Cromwell is said to have stood when he turned to his soldiers and said: "This is indeed a land well worth fighting for."

The sides of the mountain are very steep and the climb a hard one, but the view well repays for the trouble. Away to the north a vista of wonderful blue hills and little green valleys and afar off a glimpse of the lordly Shannon, and to the south the beautiful Golden vale dotted over with little whitewashed cottages and farm houses. Further south is the famous Rock of Cashel, the seat of the kings of Munster, a very interesting series of ruins and well worthy a visit.

Rathronan was the scene of a most romantic abduction some years ago, when the lovely and charming Miss Arbuthnot was abducted by Carden of Barnane, who was owner of one of the most beautiful estates in Ireland. During the Fenian uprising the Carden estate also figured in one of the most sensational murder trials of the time after an agent of the then absent landlord Carden was shot. The Carden estate lies immediately south of Devil's Bit mountain.

When the Devil Was Hungry.

There is a story attached to every place of note in Ireland and it goes without saying that the Devil's Bit has one. If you visit any of the peasant homes in the valley, the woman of the house will tell you this story as she bustles about preparing you a cup of tea:

One day the devil, through some mistake, landed in the Emerald Isle, and, having lost his way, became very hungry. He dare not enter any peasant's cabin and ask for food or shelter, for he knew that low and far between were the homes where a little wooden cross was not hanging on the wall.

He sat down at the foot of the mountain a while and was sorely troubled. But on looking up he saw a goat making his way up the rough mountain side and instantly he was on his feet. He started in hot pursuit, but the goat being very nimble, as are most of his kind, seemed to be getting the best of the race.

Enraged with fear of losing his prey, the ruler of the lower regions let out a terrific roar, and opening his huge mouth threw a hole out of mountain side. And the hole is there today to show for itself. And if you are a doubting Thomas you will find the rocks which he could not swallow scattered over the mountain side, some of them large enough to build a good sized house.

Glamor and Romance.

There are many other tales and legends told concerning these Tipperary mountains and as we wander along their heather-covered sides and the glamor and the romance of the Irish atmosphere creeps into our being, we can readily believe them all.

The country around Slieve-na-mon is the country that Charles J. Kickham, the Tipperary poet and writer, immortalized in his famous "Knocknagow," a book that has been read and reread by all who love the land of the shamrock and which you will find in even the meanest cabin home in Tipperary. It was the same country the Irish poet Davis had in mind when he wrote:

You see him in his cabin rude,
Or dancing with his dark-haired Mary,
You'd swear they knew no other mood
Than mirth and love in Tipperary.

THE HARP

'Tis many a long and weary year
Since mortal eye has seen
The ancient harp of Ireland, with
Its strings of golden sheen,
Though now and then a favored one
May chance to hear it play
Far up some wild and windy glen
Upon St. Patrick's day.

But the harp of war and minstrelsy
Believe me is not hung
Upon some lonely rowan tree,
With all its wires unstrung
But hidden in [illegible]
From [illegible]
It [illegible]
Upon [illegible]

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

Bradford votes May 1st on bonding the city $280,000 to erect a new school building.

Leo J. Bess, of Eldred who served on the Mexican border in Company I, Third Infantry, died last Wednesday in the Olean General Hospital.

Frank Harnett, of Coleville, has purchased the Thomas Mackey residence in Bradford and will soon occupy their new home soon—Eldred Eagle.

The borough of Eldred is considering to provide itself with electricity, either by erecting transmitting line from Portville or from a local plant.

From the Eldred Eagle, in a write up of the Allegany Bridge Club, the following paragraph appeared:

A letter form Mayor P. C. Foley, of Olean was read, stating that he had secured the placing of a special act before the New York State Legislature putting the piece of road from the state line to Portville on the Sate highway map, and that Olean parties were urging their Assemblyman to put all of the pressure back of it possible.

BIG GAS WELL

A million foot gas well was struck near Ackley, Warren county at noon Wednesday. The well belongs to E. O. Tanner of Bradford, his brother E. R. Tanner, of Ackley, and E. A. Loop, of Eldred. The gas carries a spray of oil and comes from a depth of 989 feet.—Eldred Eagle.

NEW DENTIST AT ELDRED.

Dr. Wormer a dentist, of Shinglehouse will open an office over the First National Bank as soon as the necessary equipment can be installed. The doctor has been unavoidably delayed by sickness in his family. People of Eldred and vicinity will be delighted to welcome the dentist.—Eldred Eagle.

C. H. LATHAM DIED SUNDAY NIGHT.

Charles H. Latham, aged 76 years proprietor of the Bradford-Smethport Motor Bus Line service, and one of Bradford's oldest and best known citizens, passed away at the Bradford Hospital last evening at 8:15 o'clock, following a brief illness of pneumonia. The death of this well known business man who as a compiler of the city directors for years was well acquainted with the citizens of this city, came as a great shock to the community. Deceased was born in Randolph, N. Y. He came to this city 51 years ago and opened a photograph gallery where the Bay State hotel now stands. In 1898 he started to compile the city directories in Bradford and has performed that work ever since. Four years ago he engaged in the bus line business between this city and Smethport.

Mr. Latham was a good citizen and as such he will be sadly missed. He was the possessor of a splendid character and was respected by all who knew him.

Many of his friends were not aware of his illness and his unexpected death was a severe blow to them. Deceased was a member of the Grange and of lodge No. 330, I. O. O. F., at Randolph N. Y.

Surviving are his wife, Lillie E. Latham; two sons Charles H. Latham, both of Bradford and one brother, William Latham of Randolph, N. Y.—Bradford Star.

MRS. LOTTIE BURR DILENBECK, DEAD.

Died at her home in Annin Township, March 5th at 1:30 A. M. Mrs. Lottie Burr Dillenbeck, widow of the late Jonas Dillenbeck; after years of suffering of a complication of diseases. She was a daughter of Edgar and Jane Burr, pioneer resident of Port Allegany. She was born in Williamson Wayne County N. Y. Jan. 29, 1847, and was married to Jonas M. Dillenbeck Oct. 8, 1866 at Smethport. They moved at once to the farm home, where she died, spending her whole married life there.

She leaves to mourn her going away, one daughter Mrs. Erwin Tubbs of Annin, one son Glenn at home and eight children.

Besides her immediate family she leaves three sisters and two brothers, many relatives and a large circle of friends. Mrs. Dillenbeck was a member of the Methodist Church for forty nine years, joining with her husband at that time.

The funeral was held at the home on Thursday at two o'clock and the body laid to rest beside her husband who preceded to the great beyond fifteen years ago. The Rev. W. Tubbs conducted the services.

Thus one more called home to reap the reward of a good and useful life passed here on earth.

We feel that our loss is her gain. The brothers survivins are: C. W. Burr and John Burr of this place, Mrs. Charles Bartholomew of Wisher Pa., Mrs. F. J. Tefft and Mrs. Rose Card of Port Allegany.

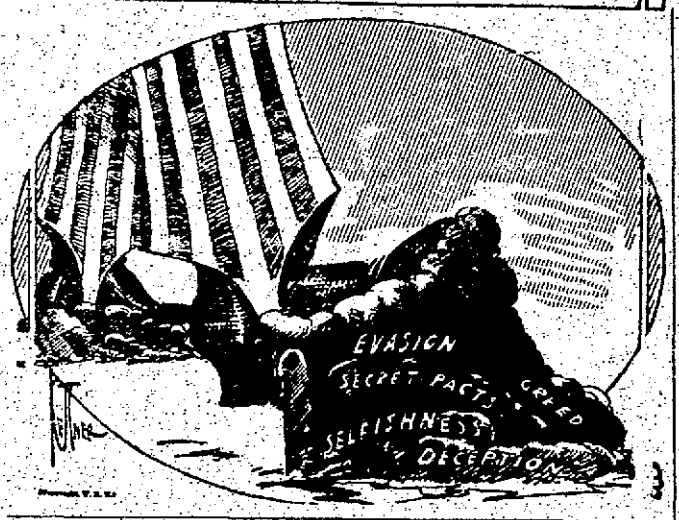
Still Muddy Over There



The family have the sympathy of all their neighbors and friends of whom there are many.—The Reporter—Argus.

Politics in Potter County are a little in advance of those of McKean. Fifteen candidates have officially announced themselves as being willing to serve the "dear people." Six citizens have spoke for County Commissioner; three for judge; two for Sheriff, and one each for County Auditor, Phonotary, Register of Deeds and Treasurer. The candidate for Treasurer is a woman, wife of present Treasurer.

On the night of March 14th, nine persons were burned to death at the county almshouse of Angelica, N. Y. Seven of the victims were women, the other two men. A few minutes before Charles Sanborn, an attendant, met his death, he had succeeded in saving three lives. Mr. Sanborn, who once lived in Bradford was 75 years of age. While in Bradford he was employed as coachman by the late Congressman and Mrs. S. B. Dresser. The fire was caused by an explosion in the boiler room.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our hearty thanks to all friends, who in any way offered their services, during Mr. Olaf Johnson's illness. To our friends in Ormsby, Smethport, and those, who kindly gave us the service of their automobiles we heartily thank: Mrs. Olaf Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Nordgren.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under the provisions of the Public Service Law, at File A-7959-23, by Henry C. Evans, Walter Stroub and Julia Murphy, incorporators of the Warren-McKean Telephone Company for a certificate of public convenience evidencing the Commission's requisite approval of the application of the Warren-McKean Telephone Company for approval of incorporation and beginning of exercise of rights granted thereby in Warren and McKean Counties.

A public hearing upon this application will be held on the 7th floor City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Wednesday, the eleventh day of April, 1923 at 9:30 a. m., when and where all persons in interest may appear and be heard if they so desire.

AMERICAN INDIVIDUALISM.

Herbert Hoover is an author of a little book, "American Individualism," of 72 pages, which those who hold dear their country's future may do well to read and study. It is a timely message to the American people. A calm voice in a storm. The best way of conveying an idea off the book is to quote from its pages.

"Five or six great social philosophies are at struggle in the world for ascendency. Their is the individualism of America. Their is the Individualism of the more democratic states of Europe with its careful reservations of castes and classes. There are Communism, Socialism, Syndicalism, Capitalism, an finally there is Autocracy, whether by birth, by possessions, militarism, or divine rights of kings.

"Some are false, some are true. What we are interested in is their challenge to the physical and spiritual forces of America."

"Our individualism differs from all others because it embraces these great ideals: that while we build our society upon the attainment of the individual, we shall safeguard to every individual an equality of opportunity to take that position in the community to which his intelligence, character, ability, and ambition entitle him; that we keep the social solution free from frozen strata of classes; that we shall stimulate effort of each individual to achievement; that through an enlarging sense of responsibility and understanding we shall assist him to his attainment; while he in turn must stand up to the emery wheel.

"Progress will march if we hold an abiding faith in the intelligence the initiative, the character, the courage, and the divine touch in the individual. We can safeguard these ends if we give to each individual that opportunity for which the spirit of America stands. We can make a social system as perfect as our generation merits and one that will be received in gratitude by our children."

Many passages from Hoover's book would be well to quote, such as: "Progress of the nation is the sum of the progress in its individuals.

"Our individualism insists upon the divine in each human being. It rests upon the firm faith that the divine spark can be awakened in every heart.

"Moreover, today when we rehearse our own individual memories of success; we find that none gives us such comfort as memory of service given.

"One of the difficulties in social thought is to find the balance of perspective. A single crime does not mean a criminal community.

"Salvation will not come to us of the wreckage of individualism. What we need today is to study devotion to a better, brighter, broader individualism and individualism that carries increasing responsibility and service to our fellows. Our need is not for a way out but a way forward."

CONGRESSMAN GOING TO SCHOOL.

Representative Clarence MacGregor of Buffalo, who announces that he will attend the summer school of the University of Pennsylvania, where he will pursue a course in banking, is adopting an original plan for a congressman. He is a member of the House committee on banking and he wants to acquaint himself more thoroughly with the principles of the business so that he may be able to comprehend the questions that are likely to come before his committee. He is going to school because his earlier education was entirely neglected. He is a graduate of the University of Rochester and a lawyer by profession, but he has never given any close attention to banking and wants to know more about it.

His course is a commendable one. While some other members are off on junkets at public expense and still others, perhaps, are looking after their chance of re-election, Mr. MacGregor will be fitting himself to give better service for the term for which he has been elected. That may prove to be good politics also, though novel. At any rate, he understands that he is expected to have knowledge of the subject with which his committee has to deal. Being deficient in his own view he is taking a direct means of adding to his information by making it a serious study.

Mr. MacGregor at least is entitled to be credited with originality, and this is an indication that he will become a useful member of the committee and a valuable and informed member of Congress as well.—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

IT HAPPENS IN THE DAILY ROUTINE.

"Excuse me sir, but may I use your telephone?" said a prosperous looking stranger, as he entered the Corner Drug store, Monday evening, and found the genial proprietor, Dr. W. A. Ostrander, in charge.

"Certainly, sir; just help yourself," was the hearty response, whereupon after several minutes at the phone, the stranger asked:

"May I have a glass of water, please?"

"Certain and sure," said the doctor as he drew a glass of life-size proportions and handed it across the counter. "Anything else I can do for you?"

"Well, now that you mention it," said the stranger, I found the post office closed on my way down and I am in sore need of five two-cent stamps. Can you accommodate me?"

"Pleased to do so," remarked the proprietor as he tore off the number required. "Think we'll have some rain?"

"Feels very much like it. I'm sure," said the stranger; "but speaking of rain, have you an almanac containing the weather indications? Really, I'd like to have one."

"That we have," said the doctor. "You'll find quite a bunch of almanacs on the lower counter there. Just help yourself."

"Many thanks, I'm sure," was the stranger's acknowledgement as he pocketed the articles desired. "Now, if you'll permit me to look over your telephone directory for a few minutes I shall be exceeding grateful."

"Make yourself right at home, my friend," was the doctor's response, who by this time was beginning to wonder concerning the next feature of a very entertaining program, when the stranger, after copying a few names from the phone directory, again approached the counter with:

"I'm rooming in East Smethport for the present, but the walking is so treacherous that I'm afraid to trust myself. You don't happen to know of any person with an auto going that way, do you?"

"Well, not just at present," said the doctor; "but if you'll only wait till eleven o'clock, our closing time, I'll take you there myself. You see my auto is at the door, and I assure you that I shall be delighted to accommodate you."

"Oh, ah, well, I'm afraid I can't wait that long," was the stranger's reply. "Good night, sir; good night."

"Well can you beat it? Say, doctor, do you get fellows like that every day?" queried several prospective customers who were waiting for the stranger's numerous orders to be filled.

"Oh, we get something like him every day," the doctor replied; "but I must admit that he has scored with a record. Yes, a drug store keeps everything," was his concluding remark, as he passed over a new alarm clock with the next sale and opened up an exhibit of box candy, in contemplation of another.

STIFFER EXAMINATION FOR TAX AUDITORS.

Washington, D. C., March, 16 1923—Uncle Sam is raising still higher his requirements for internal revenue accountants. Announcement just issued by the Civil Service Commission throughout the country on April 7, for auditor, Income Tax Unit, which includes both auditors in Washington and agents in the field service, calls for four years' commerical accounting experience as a prerequisite to entrance to the written examination, which doubles the former experience requirement. Those qualified in the examination are given additional training at Government expenses and a preliminary work period under the supervision of experienced auditors. The Government is thus making a determined effort to have tax returns examined and taxes assessed by a body of thoroughly competent accountants in order that the returns may be audited withspeed and accuracy.

Full information regarding the examination, and application blanks may be obtained from the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or the secretary of the board of U. S. Civil-Service examiners at the post office or costum house in any city.

RADIO BUILT FOR TWO CENTS.

Philadelphia, March 15—Economy experts who have been puzzling their brains in an effort to solve the problem of cheap radio sets will have to take their hats off to John Rauch, aged 15, who comes forward today with a set which completely knocks out the previous low cost record of 23cents. His set cost all of two cents and he is now experimenting on one which will pay for itself. The principal item of cost in the two-cent set is the panel on which it is mounted. It is a penny. Had he used a suspender button instead he could have cut the cost in half. The other items of cost include a few inches of wire and a crystal detector which he made himself. It consists of lead filings and sulpher.

He started with a four-tube set. That didn't satisfy him so he proceded to build a one-tube set. From that he went to a crystal receiver mounted on a match box and his last effort produced the two-cent receiving station.—Pittsburgh Gazette Times.

WHAT WE MUST DO FOR OUR SCHOOLS

The View of Some of the Leading Educators of the Country on Reforms in Our Educational Systems.

Making the training of the senses a prime object every day. Teach every child to draw, model, sing or play a musical instrument and read music.—Charles W. Eliot.

When the American people are spending annually $22,000,000,000 on luxuries, certainly they can afford to spend more than $1,000,000,000 a year on schools.—John J. Tigert.

There is a crying need for independence of Boards of Education.—William L. Ettinger.

Music and fine arts antedate the three Rs. He is a poorly educated man who lacks in appreciation of the beautiful.—George D. Strayer.

The greatest need of our public school systems today is an opportunity to catch up with the demands that have been made upon them in recent ears.—Herbert S. West.

A preliminary to any fundamental educational reform must be the humanizing of knowledge so as to make it really a vital thing in life.—James Harvey Robinson.

Our greatest need is still to get more of the civic and less of the personal motive into the hearts of the generation.—William McAndrew.

What our county needs today more than anything else is not better artisans, mechanics, bookkeepers and such as men, but better and more intelligent citizens.—Alfred E. Stearns.

Fierce Wars Over Cinnamon.

For over 200 years wars raged and parleys succeeded one another for possession of the island of Ceylon, in order to obtain that fragrant cinnamon. Finally the Dutch fell to the lot of the Portuguese, who so cruelly treated the natives that they appealed to the Dutch, with whom they were on friendly terms, to come to their aid. This nation for seven months laid siege to the island, carrying on a fierce warfare in which many persons perished.

Finally in possession the Dutch were hardly less cruel to the natives than their former rulers. They tried to keep the monopoly of the trade of the world; not a single cinnamon plant was allowed to leave the island. If the crop was larger than that demanded by trade and the price in danger of being lowered, all that remained was burned or thrown into the sea.

Cinnamon is now grown in many tropical countries, and much improved by cultivation.

UNITED STATES LEADS IN RURAL TELEPHONES

Score of Years Ago Telephone Communication Was Practically Unknown on Farms.

Remarkable advances have been made during the past few years in developing telephone communication in the rural districts of the United States.

Today there are more than 2,500,000 farms in the United States equipped with telephones. While twenty years ago telephone service was practically unknown between farmers. This means that nearly two-fifths of the farms in this country have telephone service. The Spokane Daily Chronicle states that 40 per cent of the farms in the state of Washington are equipped with telephones, while in lower tier runs up to 81 per cent in the states beginning with Missouri and Kansas and extending northward, where automobiles are most numerous, 70 per cent of the farms have telephone service.

In no other country has the development of rural telephone service reached such an advanced stage.

The familiar sight of telephone poles along country roads, as seen in this country, is practically unknown in the majority of foreign countries.

Most of the 2,750,000 farms equipped with telephones are reached by the twenty-five companies, comprising the Bell System and 9000 independent companies. Also connecting with these lines are about 26,000 rural associations operated on a mutual or co-operative basis and not rated as companies, but which connect with the Bell System.

DAIRY FACTS

MUST KEEP HEIFER GROWING

Larger She Is Grower Will Be Her Capacity to Consume and Turn It Into Milk.

To get the best out of our dairy cattle we must grow the heifers out and develop them well, because the heifer of today is the cow of tomorrow, says J. P. Linkinster, chief of the dairy division, who states that the majority of the dairy heifers in South Carolina are undersized. The dairy heifer is a future milk producing machine, and the larger she is the greater will be her capacity to consume feed and therefore to produce milk, other things being equal.

The question often comes up in feeding heifers as to whether they are making a good growth for their age. How big should a six-months-old heifer be? What should she weigh? Normal growth for Jerseys, Holsteins, Ayrshires and dairy Shorthorns have been worked out by the Missouri experiment station.

For best results dairy animals —Should Be Fed in Stanchions.

For instance, if a twelve months old Jersey heifer weighs approximately 600 pounds, she is making normal growth; eighteen months old, 575 pounds. A Holstein heifer, on the other hand, should weigh about 500 pounds, and at eighteen months, 690 pounds.

The weight of an animal is not the whole story, however. The height at the withers is also an excellent indication. The normal Jersey heifer at six months should be about 37 inches, at the withers; at twelve months, 42½ inches, at eighteen months, 45½ inches, and at two years 47¾ inches. Holsteins at the same age are higher—at six months, 39.7 inches; at twelve months, 44.8 inches; eighteen months, 47.0 inches; and at two years, 49.8 inches.

VALUE OF MILKING MACHINE

No Doubt of Important Part It Plays in Development of More Profitable Dairying.

There can be little doubt now of the value of the milking machine and the important part that it is playing in the development of more profitable dairying. The contention that milking machines are harmful to cows that they tend to tear down the udder and render the cows useless, has proven to be generally untrue.

The recent improvements that have been made on the leading makes of milking machines have made it possible for the practical farmer to invest in one with a comparative certainty of securing beneficial results provided he gives the machine care.

The right use of the milking machine is just one more step toward more profitable dairying, more contented dairymen and more wholesome milk.—H. R. Luscelles, in Indiana Farm Guide.

Care at Calving Time

Separate the cow from the herd several days before calving date. In summer open pasture and in winter clean dry stall are ideal calving conditions.

Feed a bran mash for first four or six feeds after calving.

Feed a light grain mixture, such as equal parts oats and [illegible] until swelling is out of udder.

After udder is normal, start milk ration at four to five pounds daily, and increase gradually one pound every other day until natural milk flow is reached.

Continue feeding according to production.

Milk With Clean Hands.

The milker should always milk with dry clean hands. It is a filthy habit, to say the least, to milk with wet hands, and it is a mistaken idea that milking with wet hands makes milking easier.

Whole Milk for Calves.

Whole milk should be fed the calf until it is three weeks old. At this time skim milk may be substituted for part of the whole milk. Make the change gradually.

VALLEY GRANGE NEWS

It's all right, what's all right? Valley Grange. If you would attend some Saturday night, any Saturday night, you wouldn't ask such questions. Last Saturday night the third and fourth degrees were conferred on two candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Bonaham, afterward an oyster supper was served with extra trimmings consisting of Salads, Sandwiches, Cakes, and Coffee.

Then the orchestra called the dancers on the floor for the purpose of settling their supper, which was accordingly done. The last dance ending at just 12 midnight, so the Sabbath was not broken, everyone went home happy in the thought that the evening had been well spent.

New names are looked for in the near future.

There were over thirty members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. Parker, drove down from Smethport.

We hear that Pomona Grange will be held at Coryville the first Wednesday in April.

Better not come to grange next Saturday night the Lecturer might put something over on you. She has something in mind, but she won't tell.

ANCIENTS HAD 'DRUG STORES'

Principal Studies of Toxicologists, However, Were Confined to Finding Antidotes to Poisons.

The earliest pharmacopoeia, or collection of formulas, showing evidence of supervision over drugs, is a Sumerian work. A Roman one was written in 42 A. D., and the next was an Arabian work written in 983 A. D. In Naples an academy was founded in the Eleventh century, and Salerno had one in the Seventh century. Through the influence of these schools drug stores, called "stationes," were established throughout Italy.

Antidotes and disinfectants, classed with the opiates, were the main remedies in the time of Cordius. The principal representatives of these were the two electuaries, "Theriaca" and "Mithridat." Mithridat was a compound invented by Mithridates Eupator, king of Pontus, who lived in constant fear of poison and studied toxicology by testing poisons on criminals and taking their antidotes himself every day.

His system became so accustomed to poisons that when on the day of his defeat by Pompey, he attempted to poison himself, the poison failed and he ordered one of his soldiers to kill him. Pompey found the recipe, and it was improved upon by Damocrates, the physician of Nero, until it contained 54 ingredients.

A Flying Bishop.

The bishop of Bangor, Wales, has created a record by flying to Cologne to deliver a sermon at the age of seventy-eight years. He is the Right Rev. Watkin Williams, member of an ancient Welsh family, the Williams of Rodelwyddan, descended from Sir William Williams, speaker of the house of commons.

He began his clerical career with a curacy which few Englishmen would care to pronounce, that of Llanallaneerchirgog, and was for many years rector of Rodelwyddan before becoming archdeacon of St. Asaph and then dean. He became bishop of Bangor nearly 24 years ago.

Telephones in Finland.

Finland is a country about which we in the United States hear little, but it is nevertheless of the most telephonically speaking. Although accurate statistics are difficult to get, the latest report indicates that there are in Finland about 1,000 telephones and a considerable number of interurban toll lines, all operated by private companies. In view of the fact that the population of the country is only 3,500,000, this represents a notable telephone development, one which in fact exceeds that of France, Italy, or Belgium.

Coffin Cloth for Clothes.

Cloth made for use in metallic coffins was used for women's gowns and men's evening clothes in 1919 by United States women and men during the shortage of broadcloth. Testimony to this effect was given at the trial of a suit between two mercantile con-

EXCELLENT GIFT FOR YOUTH

Department of Agriculture Suggests Purebred Calf, Pig or Some Other Animal.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In selecting birthday and Christmas gifts for children in rural communities, why not give a purebred pig, calf, or other animal? This is the suggestion of the United States Department of Agriculture, which, with the various states, is conducting the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign. A recent questionnaire study of the utility value of toys and live stock showed, among other results, that home influence is an important factor governing the breeding of superior domestic animals. In fact, it ranks in importance next to sales, fairs, and shows, taken collectively. When parents show their interest in good stock the children are more likely to do so.

One breeder told of receiving some purebred live stock as a wedding gift from his father-in-law. That beginning was an important influence, which resulted in an entire herd of well-bred, profitable animals, a practical influence in the couple's prosperity and happiness.

Gifts of good dairy stock, the department points out, are not only acceptable in themselves but with proper [illegible] pride and give pleasure, satisfaction and financial benefits for an indefinite period.

Common Sense Counts

Success in the dairy business or in keeping even a small herd of dairy cows depends (like most things do) in a great measure upon the use of good common sense. Cows produce the most milk usually in the latter part of May and June. Therefore, what does the wise dairy farmer do? He maintains as nearly as possible the year round the conditions of those months when production is the highest.

Palatable food, a succulent ration, and a balanced ration, together with a moderate temperature and comfortable surroundings, will bring as near the ideal producing conditions as is possible, and an effort to keep conditions so will pay big returns.

FEED DRY COW ON ROUGHAGE

Daily Allowance of Bran or Oats Is Favored—Cabbage and Pumpkins Are Very Good.

During the eight or ten weeks that cows go dry, their food should be chiefly roughage. A daily allowance of two pounds of bran or oats, or a mixture of two parts each of bran and oats and one part of linseed meal or corn-oil meal makes a proper feed for a cow near calving. Some roots, cabbage, pumpkins, or spinaches are also very good. Highly carbonaceous roughage, such as straw and corn stalks, is not good at this particular time. Such feeds, with cold water, cold drafts, or lying out at night on damp or frozen ground, are the chief causes of caked udder or garget.

Cleanliness in Everything.

Milk pails and other utensils should be free so far as is possible from crevices where dirt may lodge and be hard to remove. Cream separators and other dairy utensils should always be cleaned properly immediately after use. This practice not only improves the quality of the milk and cream but makes the work easier and the utensils last longer.

Clean Utensils.

All utensils which come in contact with milk and cream should be kept clean at all times. It is well to use pails with a partly covered top, because this keeps out 50 per cent of the dirt and other impurities which would otherwise get into the milk.

Safeguards in Calf Feeding.

Critical in a calf's life is when his feed is changed from whole milk to skim milk. To avoid scours make the change very gradually, adding a little skim milk to the whole milk each day.
